BROAD MARKETS

Given the strong year for markets overall, it is hard to remember that we actually started 2019 with tremendous uncertainty. Stocks in the U.S. had just experienced a very poor fourth quarter during 2018 and pessimistic market sentiment was rampant. At that time, we saw a tightening Fed policy, slowing global growth and political uncertainty including potential tariff escalation and the ongoing partial government shutdown.

But most of those fears did not actually materialize. The shutdown ended, the Fed is now likely done tightening and there is now more optimism concerning trade negotiations with China. The next round of tariffs were put on hold and President Trump is expecting to sign phase one of a new Chinese trade deal sometime later in January. While global GDP growth is still relatively slow, we did not tip into a worldwide recession. The IMF is now expecting global growth to pick up slightly during 2020.

DOMESTIC EQUITY

For the first time in over 170 years, we just closed an entire decade without experiencing a single recession in the U.S. We remain in the midst of the longest economic expansion on record. While our GDP growth has remained slow for most of the last 10 years, it has been fairly steady. The only negative is that we seem to have financed most of this economic expansion through borrowing, as our total national debt roughly doubled during that time.

Technology has been the big winner over the last decade, thanks in part to a spectacular 50.29% return for the sector during 2019. On a related note, growth stocks have consistently outperformed value over the last decade as well.

INTERNATIONAL EQUITY

The IMF recently downgraded its global growth expectations for 2019 to 3.0%, which would be the lowest since the financial crisis of 2008-2009. However, they currently expect a small rebound to 3.4% during 2020. The Eurozone, in particular, continues to struggle, as Germany and Italy both teetered on the brink of recession throughout much of 2019. Continued low PMI numbers indicate that this will probably continue for at least the start of 2020 as well.

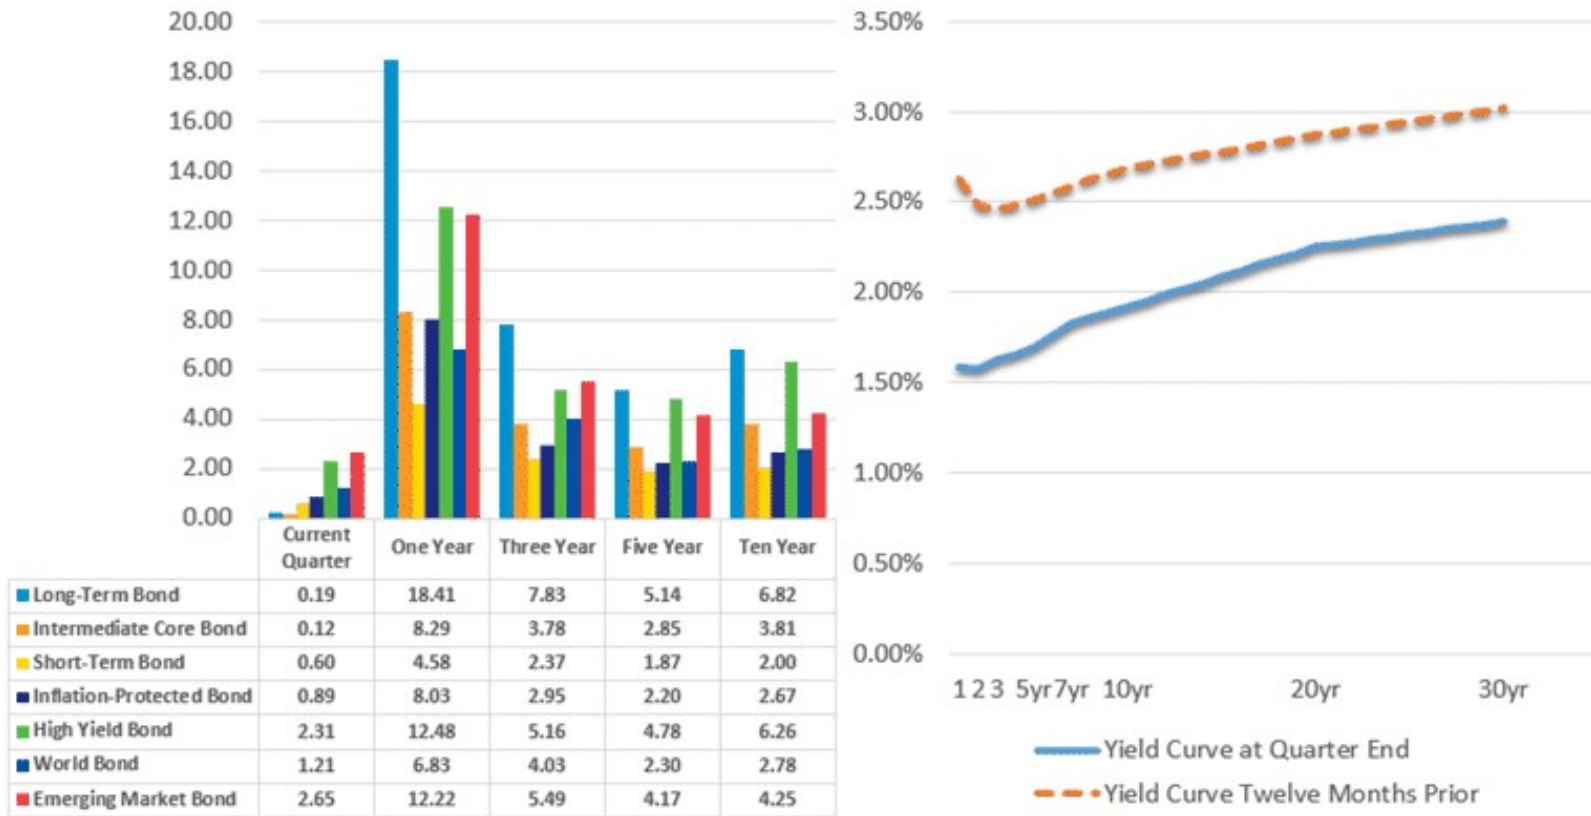

Over in the U.K., it finally looks like Brexit will happen. Prime Minister Boris Johnson's conservative party won a large majority in last month's election. This should pave the way to complete a departure agreement so that the U.K. will leave the European Union by the end of 2020.

FIXED INCOME

The yield curve finally reverted back to a more normal slope during the fourth quarter after being inverted throughout most of the year. A rate cut by the Fed during October seemed to help. The 30-year treasury yield reached 2.39% at the end of the year after hitting record lows of just below 2% during September. Markets are currently expecting at least one more cut during 2020 but it wouldn't surprise us if we don't actually see anything until after the November election.

Long-term bonds, high-yield bonds and emerging market bonds all had a spectacular year during 2019. This was based on unexpected interest rate declines and an increasing market appetite for risk during the year.

DISCLOSURES

Any recommendations in this report are made with respect only to funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers, Inc., acts as an ERISA section 3(21)(A)(ii) investment advisory fiduciary.

Information for funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers is not acting as an investment advisory fiduciary is included in this Quarterly Monitoring Report as a courtesy, and its inclusion does not constitute investment advice by StanCorp Investment Advisers or its affiliates. StanCorp Investment Advisers does not serve as an investment fiduciary for the inclusion or removal of any investment option that it subadvises or is issued by an affiliate.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The value of an investment will vary so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original value. Fees and expenses will decrease investment returns so investors should take them into consideration prior to investing.

Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against loss in declining financial markets.

Hyphens appear in data columns to indicate that data is not available.

CUSIP, Net Expense Ratio and Turnover Ratio for Variable Annuities pertain to the underlying funds.

Separate Account data is a delayed import and will be available approximately 45 days after month end. Therefore, some of the Separate Account data may be empty or outdated until it is available.

Peer groups are comprised of all of the funds that match an investment's category as classified by Morningstar. Morningstar Category identifies funds based on their actual investment styles as measured by their underlying portfolio holdings over a three-year period.

Category and Peer group rankings and Peer group historical ranks (1/2/3/4/5 yrs) for Separate Accounts are calculated based on Gross Management Fee Return and not Total Return.

Based on Morningstar data, the system calculates data points on: Product History; peer group rankings for Calendar Year, Standard Deviation, Alpha, Treynor Ratio, Sharpe Ratio, and Expense Ratio; and all peer group rankings for money market funds.

Morningstar reports Manager Tenure at the fund portfolio level, while Product History is listed for the fund share class. As a result, more recent share classes may have much longer manager tenures than the reported Product History.

Net Assets reported in the QMR may be current as of the end of the month prior to the end of the quarter or the end of the last month of the quarter, depending on when net asset data was made available to Morningstar.

Alpha, Beta and R-squared statistics are calculated using the best-fit index as determined by Morningstar.

Morningstar groups mutual funds and exchange traded funds into different fund universes, although the same category types are used in both universes. Rankings are done within the separate universes, so that mutual funds are ranked with other mutual funds within the same category, and exchange traded funds are ranked with other exchange traded funds within the same category. As a result, a mutual fund and an exchange traded fund that share the same category are ranked relative to different peer groups.

DISCLOSURES

Funds that focus on certain sectors may involve a greater degree of risk than broadly diversified funds. In addition to the risks associated with equity investing, investments in small and mid-cap companies and narrowly focused investments typically exhibit higher volatility and are less readily marketable than investments in larger companies or more diversified strategies. Similarly, international investing involves certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic instability, and political developments. These risks may be accentuated in emerging markets. Real estate investment funds are subject to special risks, such as tax law changes, and general economic conditions that may affect the value of the underlying real estate assets. Funds that invest in bonds are subject to certain risks including interest-rate risk, credit risk and inflation risk. Derivatives are subject to a number of risks, such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risk. A fund investing in a derivative instrument could lose more than the principal amount invested. The principal value and investment returns of mutual funds, money market funds and stocks are neither guaranteed nor insured by the U.S. Government. Indices are unmanaged, do not incur fees and cannot be invested in directly by an individual.

Employers and plan participants should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the investment options offered under the retirement plan before investing. The prospectuses for the individual mutual funds in the group annuity contain this and other important information. Prospectuses may be obtained by calling 877.805.1127. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing. Investments are subject to market risk and fluctuate in value.

Standard Stable Asset Fund is a group annuity product issued by Standard Insurance Company. Amounts contributed and the fulfillment of any guarantees specified in the group annuity contract are insurance claims supported by the full faith and credit of Standard Insurance Company. Standard Stable Asset Fund is neither a mutual fund nor a bank product and is not insured by the FDIC or any other federal governmental agency. Standard Insurance Company provides and periodically resets a guaranteed crediting rate for Standard Stable Asset Fund. However, plan sponsors may instruct Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate in order for Standard Retirement Services to reduce certain administrative fees for plan-related services. Your plan's crediting rate may be lower than the guaranteed crediting rate once the reduction has been applied. Past interest rates are not indicative of future rates. Standard Stable Asset Fund may not be available in all states.

Information on Standard Stable Asset Fund may be obtained by contacting your Standard Insurance Company representative.

If the plan sponsor selects The Standard Stable Asset fund as the cash equivalent investment option for the plan and instructs Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate as described above, the Annualized Returns for the fund as shown in this report is net of the reduction

Please refer to StanCorp Investment Advisers' Form ADV disclosure brochure for additional details. StanCorp Investment Advisers creates general asset allocation models for use when providing investment advisory services. The allocation percentages to the asset classes in each model are set and updated, as necessary, based on certain assumptions made about market conditions, the rate of return for each asset class, average internal fees and expenses of an investment option, etc. No specific investment option was considered when setting the allocation percentage of each asset class. Therefore, the allocation percentage for the cash/cash equivalent sleeve of each asset allocation model does not take into account any specific investment option that your plan sponsor may select and if your plan sponsor will instruct the issuer to reduce any crediting rate. Consequently, investment results may vary among investors using the same asset allocation model and the same investment options.
